

Tanglewood's Secret

A delightful family film set in the woodlands of South England in the late 1940's.

Philip and Ruth are staying with their rather strict Aunt while their parents are abroad. Ruth being impetuous and outspoken is usually getting them both into trouble of one kind or another.

Building a secret hideout in the woods, the children meet Terry, a gypsy boy, who shares the secrets of the forest with them. The sickness and death of Terry after falling out of a tree causes Ruth to ask many challenging questions of her friend Mr. Tandy - the local shepherd.

Taken from the best-selling book by Patricia St. John.

80 minutes; Available in English